

We're here to help you address the questions you have.

How can I create powerful learning and collaboration among teachers that improves student learning?

How do I design a successful school improvement plan?

How can we use data as a school community to improve student and school outcomes?

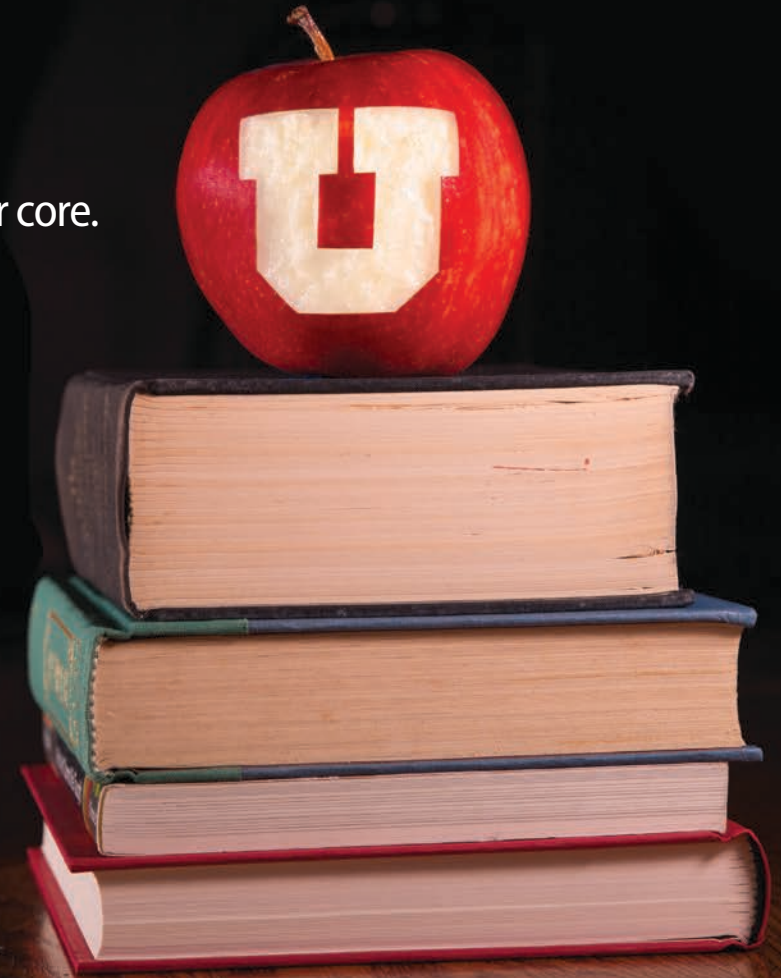

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH
UTAH EDUCATION POLICY CENTER

Bridging Research, Policy, and Practice

uepc.utah.edu

Improving Utah schools is at our core.

We care about Utah schools. As a research-based center at the University of Utah, we understand the challenges you face, your priorities, and the process for moving forward to achieve your vision.

The Utah Education Policy Center is an independent, non-partisan research center that works with Utah schools, districts, community-based organizations, and higher education institutions. We are dedicated to helping provide quality, accessible, and effective education in Utah.

We work with you to identify your goals, needs, and opportunities, and collaborate on planning, implementation, and follow-up to maximize your results. Through the use of timely and rigorous educational research and evaluation, evidence-based decision-making, and regular visits to assist in these efforts, we can work together to improve Utah schools.

The Utah Education Policy Center offers customized and collaborative services to support you, including:

- Research and evaluation of programs, policies, and practices
- Leadership development, support, and collaboration
- School/district improvement and organizational change support
- Survey design, administration, and reporting
- Interviews, focus groups, and observations
- Program planning and implementation
- Statistical analysis
- Tier 1 instructional support
- Professional Learning Community development work
- Culture building by creating a context conducive for change
- School-wide system for supporting all student populations
- School appraisals

To learn more, visit uepc.utah.edu.